Soon Goo-Goose is choosing to chew chewy gluey blue goo, while tweetle beetles battle with paddles in a puddle (in case you were wondering, that's called a tweetle beetle puddle paddle battle). Mr. Knox gets exasperated: I can't blab such blibber blubber! My tongue isn't made of rubber. But he catches on to the game before it's all through. Seuss' familiar pajama-clad hero is up to the challenge, and his odyssey is captured vividly in busy two-page spreads evoking both the good times (grinning purple elephants, floating golden castles) and the bad (deep blue wells of confusion).
